FREE and Open to the Public with Advance Registration
(online registration will open in January 2018)

GOAL OF THE CREATIVE FORCES SUMMIT: To support and grow collaborative relationships between local artists, arts organizations, and military populations at Fort Carson and throughout our community. More specifically, to (1) educate the community about arts and healing therapies that are being used successfully on post at Fort Carson, (2) further connect this clinical work with the broader arts community off-post, (3) build capacity for local artists and arts organizations that are supporting this work, and (4) develop a vision for a meaningful and sustainable special project or community initiative to advance this work in the future.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: Active duty military, veterans, military family members, artists, arts and military service organizations, creative arts therapists, healthcare providers, educators, and anyone with an interest in exploring and discussing how best to bring the arts and military communities together in support of military service members, veterans, and their families.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Please contact the Cultural Office of the Pikes Peak Region at info@CulturalOffice.org, call Andy Vick at 719-634-2204, or visit www.culturaloffice.org/programs/creative-forces/ for details and registration.

ABOUT CREATIVE FORCES: Creative Forces: NEA Military Healing Arts Network is a partnership of the National Endowment for the Arts, the Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs, and state and local arts agencies, that serves the unique and special needs of military patients and veterans who have been diagnosed with traumatic brain injury and psychological health conditions, as well as their families and caregivers. Fort Carson is one of 11 national Creative Forces clinical sites. To learn more, visit arts.gov/creativeforces.
