10:57:46 From Rodney Gullatte : they are creatives...outside of the box is where we live

10:58:03 From Twelve Legs Marketing : Advertising directly to children is not simple, and has never been in the ad space. There are, again creative ways however to advertise to households with children, which would include their cell phones. Organic connections with users under 18 or have incentivize your current students to share their experience with their friends could be a good start.
